FOCUS FINANCIAL PARTNERS, LLC

JFS Wealth Advisors, LLC (JFS), successor to the firm founded in 1986, is part of the Focus Financial Partners, LLC (Focus LLC) partnership. Specifically, JFS is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Focus Operating, LLC (Focus Operating), which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Focus LLC. Focus Financial Partners Inc. (Focus Inc.) is the sole managing member of Focus LLC and is a public company traded on the NASDAQ Global Select Market. Focus Inc. owns approximately two-thirds of the economic interests in Focus LLC.

Focus Inc. has no single 25% or greater shareholder. Focus Inc. is the managing member of Focus LLC and has 100% of its governance rights. Accordingly, all governance is through the voting rights and Board at Focus Inc. As of the end of 2019, investment vehicles affiliated with Stone Point Capital, LLC (Stone Point) had a greater than 25% voting interest in Focus Inc., and Stone Point had the right to designate two of the seven directors on the Focus Inc. Board. As of the end of 2019, investment vehicles affiliated with Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co. L.P. (KKR) had a less than 25% voting interest in Focus Inc., and KKR had the right to designate one of the seven directors of the Focus Inc. Board.

Focus LLC also owns other registered investment advisors, broker-dealers, pension consultants, insurance firms, business managers, and other firms (the Focus Partners), most of which provide wealth management, benefit consulting, and investment consulting services to individuals, families, employers, and institutions. Some Focus Partners also manage or advise limited partnerships, private funds, or investment companies as disclosed on their respective Form ADVs.

JFS is a fiduciary under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (ERISA) with respect to investment management services and investment advice provided to ERISA plan clients, including ERISA plan participants. JFS is also a fiduciary under the Internal Revenue Code (the IRC) with respect to investment management services and investment advice provided to ERISA plans, ERISA plan participants, IRAs, and IRA owners (collectively, Retirement Account Clients). As such, JFS is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the IRC that include, among other things, prohibited transaction rules, which are intended to prohibit fiduciaries from acting on conflicts of interest. When a fiduciary gives advice in which it has a conflict of interest, the fiduciary must either avoid or eliminate the conflict or rely upon a prohibited transaction exemption (a PTE).

Wealth Management Services (WM)

Wealth Management Services include continuous investment management and personal financial planning. Refer to the “Financial Planning Services” section below for details regarding JFS’ approach to financial planning. Providing investment management and financial planning services together under one fee schedule is called the Lifetime Planning Continuum®.

JFS Wealth Advisors, LLC provides continual advice to a client regarding investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client’s particular circumstances are established, JFS develops a Financial Goal Plan and creates and manages a portfolio based on the Plan. JFS will manage advisory accounts on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the stated objectives of the client.
A Financial Goal Plan is developed to determine the appropriate investments, investment timeframes, and levels of risk. The Plan is developed as follows:

- Gather client information.
- Consult with the client to determine goals and objectives.
- Review basic financial data, which typically includes overviews of assets and liabilities, cash flow, tax situation, short-term events, long-term goals, risk management, and estate structures.
- Identify the need for additional professional advice, such as legal, tax, accounting, etc.

A client may decide to complete a Financial Goal Plan in phases rather than complete a full Plan at one time. The typical areas of a Plan are investment planning, retirement planning, cash flow analysis and budgeting, risk assessment and insurance needs analysis, tax planning, estate planning, and education planning.

A client may impose restrictions on the types of securities included in the portfolio (ex. use only socially responsible securities). However, most clients do not impose restrictions nor do we suggest that they do.

The primary custodians used for client accounts are Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., TD Ameritrade Institutional, Fidelity Investments, and National Advisors Trust Co. Client accounts are typically invested in no load mutual funds or Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), although other securities can be used depending upon the unique needs, circumstances, and risk tolerance of the individual client.

Investment Advisory Services (IAS)

For those individuals who do not wish to engage JFS for the Wealth Management Services referenced above, JFS offers its Investment Advisory Services (IAS) platform.

Under IAS, the client receives services limited to JFS’ allocation (and automatic rebalancing) of the client’s assets typically among various mutual funds or ETFs consistent with the client’s investment objectives. JFS also provides retirement planning.

JFS remains available to provide personal financial planning and consulting services on a fixed fee basis upon client request.

Financial Planning and Advisory Services

JFS provides a range of financial planning and consulting services, which focus on analyzing a number of different aspects relevant to a client’s financial situation, including:

- Personal Financial Statements
- Cash Flow Analysis and Budgeting
- Cash Management
- Investment Planning and Asset Allocation
- Retirement Planning
- Estate and Legacy Planning
- Tax Planning
- Risk management, Risk Assessment and Insurance Needs Analysis
- Business Planning
- Distribution Planning
Family Educational Planning

Proper financial planning is an ongoing process. Life's circumstances change, and a client's goals and opportunities change over time. JFS believes that ongoing planning and advice are key factors in developing and maintaining an investment strategy and that an ongoing relationship should be maintained between the client and JFS.

Financial planning services are typically provided in the form of a Financial Goal Plan. While a Financial Goal Plan is typically comprehensive in nature, JFS will focus on specific financial planning topics based on the client's request and unique needs. Specific services are agreed upon in advance. Clients are engaged under a specific engagement letter that details the nature of the services and the fixed fee amount. These engagement letters can be terminated by the client without penalty by giving written notice of termination within five business days of executing a contract for services. The fixed fee is non-negotiable and non-refundable after the five-day grace period and is payable in full upon completion of contracted services.

Tax Preparation Services
JFS offers to provide tax return preparation services to its clients on a fixed fee basis. The fixed price depends upon the professional providing the service and the complexity of the return. Clients are engaged under a specific engagement letter that details the nature of the services and the fixed fee amount. These engagement letters can be terminated by the client without penalty by giving written notice of termination within five business days of executing a contract for services. The fixed fee is non-negotiable and non-refundable after the five-day grace period and is payable in full upon completion of contracted services.

Advisory Services
JFS typically provides investment advice as a part of Financial Goal Plans issued to clients. The advice is general in nature and includes guidance on asset allocation strategies and alternatives to achieve strategies. Fees for this service are charged on a fixed fee basis. Clients are engaged under a specific engagement letter that details the nature of the services and the fixed fee amount. These engagement letters can be terminated by the client without penalty by giving written notice of termination within five business days of executing a contract for services. The fixed fee is non-negotiable and non-refundable after the five-day grace period and is payable in full upon completion of contracted services.

Consulting Services
JFS provides other services for clients, as requested, on a fixed price basis. These services include, but are not limited to business consulting and strategy, periodic investment reviews, and benefit plan analysis. Clients are engaged under a specific engagement letter that details the nature of the services and the fixed fee amount. These engagement letters can be terminated by the client without penalty by giving written notice of termination within five business days of executing a contract for services. The fixed fee is non-negotiable and non-refundable after the five-day grace period and is payable in full upon completion of contracted services.

Business Retirement Plan Services and Business Retirement Plan Advisory Services
JFS assists retirement plan sponsors with the following investment fiduciary services as set forth in JFS’ investment advisory agreement or investment management agreement.

- As an ERISA 3(38) investment manager, JFS’ investment services provided on a discretionary basis without the ERISA plan sponsor/client prior approval include:
investment screening, selecting, and monitoring. JFS’ service offering typically includes creation of managed portfolio models.

- As an ERISA 3(21) investment manager, JFS’ investment services provided on a non-discretionary basis include: investment screening, selecting, and monitoring. JFS’ service offering typically includes creation of managed portfolio models. However, the ERISA plan sponsor/client retains and exercises the final decision-making authority for implementing or rejecting JFS’ recommendations.
- Additional fiduciary services provided by JFS may include: screening, selecting, and monitoring of the Plan’s Qualified default investment alternative and revision or creation and maintenance of the Plan’s Investment Policy Statement (IPS).

JFS assists retirement plan sponsors with the following non-fiduciary services as set forth in JFS’ investment advisory agreement or investment management agreement.

- Qualified and non-qualified retirement plan design;
- Group and individual employee education and counseling; and
- Investment committee and plan sponsor fiduciary education.

Custodians of retirement plan Trustee accounts and retirement plan participant accounts include Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., Charles Schwab Trust Bank, TD Ameritrade Institutional, Matrix, National Advisors Trust Company, Fidelity Institutional, and Mid Atlantic. JFS’ Business Retirement Plan Services and Business Retirement Plan Advisory Services are fee-based, and clients are engaged under a specific contract for services. These contracts can be terminated by the client without penalty by giving written notice of termination within five business days of executing a contract for services. After the five-day period, a client can terminate the agreement at any time with a thirty-day written notice.

We offer clients the option of obtaining certain financial solutions from unaffiliated third-party financial institutions with the assistance of our affiliate, Focus Client Solutions (FCS). Please see Item 10 for a fuller discussion of these services and other important information.

Miscellaneous

Non-Discretionary Service Limitations
Clients who decide to engage JFS on a non-discretionary investment management or advisory basis must be willing to accept that JFS cannot effect any account transactions without obtaining prior written or verbal consent to any such transactions from the client. Accordingly, in the event of a market correction during which the client is unavailable, JFS will be unable to effect any account transactions (as it would for its discretionary clients) without first obtaining the client’s written or verbal consent.

Client Obligations
Each client retains the responsibility to promptly notify JFS if there is ever any change in the client’s financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of reviewing, evaluating, and/or revising JFS’ previous recommendations or services.

When performing requested services, JFS will not be required to verify any information received from the client or from the client’s other professionals. JFS is expressly authorized to rely on such information.
Financial Planning and Non-Investment Consulting/Implementation Services
Neither JFS, nor any of its employees, serves as an attorney. Accordingly, none of JFS’ services should be viewed as those provided by an attorney.

When requested by a client, JFS recommends the services of other professionals for the implementation of certain financial planning recommendations or other non-investment implementation purposes (ex. attorneys, accountants, insurance agents/agencies, etc.), including JFS’ related licensed insurance entity. Clients are under no obligation to engage the services of any recommended professional. Clients retain absolute discretion over all such implementation decisions and are free to accept or reject any recommendation from JFS.

If any client engages a recommended professional, and a dispute arises afterward relative to that engagement, the client agrees to seek recourse exclusively from and against the engaged professional.

Conflict of Interest
A potential conflict of interest exists for retirement plan rollovers. A client or prospective client leaving an employer typically has four options regarding an existing retirement plan (and may engage in a combination of these options):
- Leave the money in the former employer’s plan, if permitted;
- Roll over the assets to the new employer’s plan, if one is available and rollovers are permitted;
- Roll over the assets to an Individual Retirement Account (“IRA”); and/or
- Cash out the account value (which could, depending upon the client’s age, result in adverse tax consequences).

If JFS recommends that a client roll over their retirement plan assets into an account to be managed by JFS, such a recommendation creates a conflict of interest if JFS will earn an advisory fee on the rolled over assets. No client is under any obligation to roll over retirement plan assets to an account managed by JFS. JFS’ Chief Compliance Officer, Laura Blaire, remains available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the potential for conflict of interest presented by such rollover recommendation.

The recommendation by JFS that a client purchase an insurance commission product from JFS’ related insurance entity, JFS Risk Management, LLC, presents a conflict of interest. The receipt of commissions by JFS Risk Management, LLC provides an incentive to recommend insurance products based on commissions to be received rather than on a particular client’s need. However, JFS does have a duty at all times to act in the client's best interest.

No client is under any obligation to purchase any insurance commission product from JFS’ related insurance entity. Clients are reminded that they may purchase insurance products recommended by JFS through other, non-related insurance agencies. JFS’ Chief Compliance Officer, Laura Blaire, remains available to address any questions that clients or prospective clients may have regarding this or any other conflict of interest.

Assets Under Management
JFS manages $2,579,357,538 in client assets as of December 31, 2019 of which $2,310,390,214 are discretionary and $268,967,324 are non-discretionary.
Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

FEE SCHEDULES
Wealth Management Services, Investment Advisory Services, and Business Retirement Plan Services are fee-based, and clients are engaged under a specific contract for services. These contracts can be terminated by the client without penalty by giving written notice of termination within five business days. After the five-day period, clients can terminate the agreement at any time with a thirty-day written notice, and fees due will be prorated to the effective date of termination.

The annual fee for Wealth Management (WM) Services will be charged as a percentage of assets under management generally not to exceed 1.50%. The most typical fee is the following CUMULATIVE schedule:
- 1.0% of first $1,000,000 of assets, plus
- 0.9% of next $1,000,000, plus
- 0.8% of next $1,000,000, plus
- 0.7% of next $1,000,000, plus
- 0.6% on assets greater than $4,000,000
Minimum $1,500 per quarter

The annual fee for Investment Advisory Services (IAS) will be charged as a percentage of assets under management. The most typical fee is the following schedule:
- 1.25% of assets
Minimum $250 per quarter

For certain clients, the following has been grandfathered. Cash Management can be provided as an additional service as needed. Upon client request, advisor provides cash management services, including maintaining cash reserves or systematic withdrawals more frequently than semi-annually. In order to make a clear distinction between invested assets and short-term reserves, and in order not to distort the investment performance of the investment portfolio, these services will be provided through the means of a separate money market or other cash-type account registered in the client’s name. For these services, these accounts will be billed a flat rate of 0.25% per annum on the total market value of the account based on data provided by the account custodian and usually deducted directly from the account. Fees will be deducted quarterly based on the asset value at the end of the previous quarter. This fee is assessed separate from any fees assessed on the investment portfolio. These are standard fees, and in certain instances, fees may be reduced based on the situation.

The annual fee for Business Retirement Plan Services will be charged as a percentage of assets under management generally not to exceed 1.25%. The most typical fee is the following applicable CUMULATIVE schedule:
- 0.6% of first $3,000,000 of assets, plus
- 0.5% of next $2,000,000, plus
- 0.3% of next $5,000,000, plus
- 0.2% on assets greater than $10,000,000
Minimum $3,000 per year / $750 per quarter, not to exceed $1,000 per participant
Billing
The specific way in which fees are charged by JFS is detailed in the client’s specific contract with JFS.

Typically, JFS’ advisory fees are billed quarterly in advance based upon the gross market value of the assets (including margin balances and the values of securities purchased with borrowed funds) on the last business day of the previous quarter unless otherwise specified in the client’s advisory contract. JFS’ advisory fee is prorated, if applicable.

Clients elect either to be billed for services or to have fees directly debited from their account(s). The default is for fees to be directly debited.

Fixed Price Agreements
The following services are provided on a fixed price basis and are billed at the completion of the service or client engagement or as detailed in the client’s agreement. The fixed price amount is based upon the requested services, the professional(s) providing the services, and the complexity of the engagement.

- Financial Planning Services, including Tax Planning Services
- Tax Return Preparation Services*
- Advisory Services
- Consulting Services
- Other Services, including Trust and Estate Administration Services, as requested and mutually agreed upon

* At the exclusive discretion of JFS, tax return preparation services may be included for certain clients as part of their annual fee for Wealth Management Services.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON FEES & SERVICES

Negotiability of Fees
In certain circumstances, all of JFS’ fees are negotiable. Accordingly, fees vary from client to client although JFS strives to be consistent in its fees. Certain fees are waived for JFS’ employees and are often waived or discounted for certain family members of employees.

The fee schedule for each client is detailed in the advisory contract for that client. Fees are discussed with each client and mutually agreed upon before execution of the advisory contract.

Fee Calculation
The advisory fees for Wealth Management Services and Investment Advisory Services are detailed above. The fee charged is calculated as described above and is not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of an advisory client (Section 205(a) (1) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940).

The services above can be provided on a fixed price basis depending upon the services requested and the unique needs of the client. The fixed price is agreed upon in advance and is detailed in the specific contract for the services.
Account Minimums
JFS generally requires a $600,000 aggregate account minimum for Wealth Management Services. However, JFS, in its sole discretion, sometimes charges a lesser management fee and/or reduces or waives its account minimum based on certain criteria (ex. anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, etc.).

JFS does not typically enforce an account minimum for Business Retirement Plan Services.

Account Fees and Expenses
From time to time, small portions of positions will be sold to bring the cash account balance to the level required for automatic deduction of advisory fees. It is understood that the payment of these advisory fees will reduce the total investment return.

Clients will incur additional transaction costs related to specific investments. JFS neither receives nor shares in any portion of these costs. In the case of individual stocks, bonds, closed-end and open-end investment companies, options, and the like, there are typically costs charged directly by the custodian and/or clearing broker-dealer. The costs may include transaction fees.

All fees paid to JFS for advisory services (ex. Wealth Management Services, Investment Advisory Services, Business Retirement Plan Services, etc.) are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund’s prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. JFS believes these costs are unavoidable, but it strives to select funds with low or competitive expense structures. In large part, “no-load” funds are selected. Some funds that are usually distributed through stockbrokers with commission charges can be purchased by JFS without commissions. Some funds also offer “I” or “Institutional Advisor” classes of shares that are not usually available to the general public. These types of shares offer clients internal costs that are lower from those of “public” shares.

When deemed cost effective, JFS strives to purchase these lower cost shares, if they are available and comparable to “public” shares. In no instance does JFS receive any portion of mutual fund fees, costs, or any “soft-dollar” benefits from any mutual fund. A client could invest in certain mutual funds directly, without the services of JFS. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by JFS which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to the client’s financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and the fees charged by JFS to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to evaluate the advisory services being provided.

When beneficial to a client, individual equity and/or fixed income transactions will typically be effected through broker-dealers with whom JFS and/or the client have entered into arrangements for prime brokerage clearing services. This includes effecting certain transactions through other SEC registered and FINRA member broker-dealers. In these instances, the client generally will incur both the transaction fee charged by the executing broker-dealer and a “tradeaway” fee charged by the account custodian.
Termination of Advisory Relationship
A client agreement can be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of a thirty-day prior written notice. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded. The client has the right to terminate an agreement without penalty within five business days after entering into the agreement. In the event of withdrawal of funds or the termination of any account, any fees or other expenses associated with rebalancing or liquidating the account holdings will typically be assessed to the client’s account or billed.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management
JFS does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of a client’s assets).

Item 7 – Types of Clients
JFS provides services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, pension and profit sharing plans, charitable organizations and foundations, businesses, and municipal government entities.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss
The JFS Investment Committee is comprised of senior members of the firm including the Chief Investment Officer, President, Managing Principals (2), a Senior Lead Advisor, and the Director of Investment Management. The Committee meets monthly, or more frequently as necessary, to conduct and review fundamental analysis on securities recommended for client accounts. The analysis and methodology of review varies depending on the security under review.

For stocks and bonds, the analysis generally includes a review of:
- The issuer’s management;
- The amount and volatility of past profits or losses;
- The issuer’s assets and liabilities, as well as any material changes from historical norms;
- Prospects for the issuer’s industry, as well as the issuer’s competitive position within that industry;
- Credit ratings;
- Income potential; and
- Any other factors considered relevant.

For mutual funds and ETFs, the analysis generally includes a review of:
- The fund’s management team;
- The fund’s historical risk and return characteristics;
- The fund’s exposure to sectors and individual issuers;
- The fund’s fee structure;
- The fund’s management style;
- The fund’s investment philosophy;
- The fund’s total assets under management;
- The fund’s style consistency;
- The fund’s risk adjusted performance relative to peers;
- The fund’s regulatory oversight; and
- Any other factors considered relevant.
The Investment Committee generally meets no less than monthly to discuss existing and prospective investments. Investments are evaluated independently, as well as, in the context of clients’ existing holdings and sector exposures. Modern Portfolio Theory (MPT) is the basis for making investment decisions that will determine suitable investments and strategies.

JFS primarily invests for relatively long time horizons, normally for a year or more. However, market developments could cause JFS to sell securities more quickly.

Depending on a client's investment objectives, JFS might engage in short selling or option transactions. All investing involves a risk of loss; however, the use of short selling and option writing poses additional risks that are discussed in detail with any clients who are considering the use of these investment vehicles.

All investing involves a risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk. Clients should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy, including those recommended or undertaken by JFS, will be profitable or equal any specific performance levels.

Cybersecurity

The computer systems, networks, and devices used by JFS and service providers to JFS and JFS’ clients to carry out routine business operations employ a variety of protections designed to prevent damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons, and security breaches. Despite the various protections utilized, systems, networks, or devices potentially can be breached. A client could be negatively impacted as a result of a cybersecurity breach.

Cybersecurity breaches can include unauthorized access to systems, networks, or devices; infection from computer viruses or other malicious software code; and attacks that shut down, disable, slow, or otherwise disrupt operations, business processes, or website access or functionality. Cybersecurity breaches may cause disruptions and impact business operations, potentially resulting in financial losses to a client; impediments to trading; the inability by JFS and other service providers to transact business; violations of applicable privacy and other laws; regulatory fines, penalties, reputational damage, reimbursement or other compensation costs, or additional compliance costs; as well as the inadvertent release of confidential information.

Similar adverse consequences could result from cybersecurity breaches affecting issuers of securities in which a client invests; governmental and other regulatory authorities; exchange and other financial market operators, banks, brokers, dealers, and other financial institutions; and other parties. In addition, substantial costs may be incurred by these entities in order to prevent any cybersecurity breaches in the future.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

JFS Wealth Advisors, LLC and its employees have no reportable disciplinary history.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Financial Industry/Business Activities
In addition to the services listed in Item 4, JFS also provides certain accounting-related services (ex. journal entries, payroll review, etc.), although JFS is not an accounting firm.

JFS recommends itself to an advisory client who needs these services, in certain circumstances, provided that the recommendation is consistent with JFS’ fiduciary duties to the client. If a client decides to hire JFS to provide these services, the fees for these services are entirely separate and distinct from advisory fees charged by JFS. No advisory client is obligated to use JFS to provide any additional services.

JFS’ President, Robert C. Jazwinski, is a Member of the Board of Trustees of Westminster College and Chair of its Investment Committee. He serves as a Trustee and Treasurer of the F.H. Buhl Trust and as a Director and President of the Community Hope Investment Partnership. He serves as Treasurer of the Gateway Towers Condominium Association. None of these positions are compensated and all are entirely voluntary.

Robert C. Jazwinski serves on Advisory Boards for FNB Capital Partners and Tecum Capital Partners for which he is not compensated. He and certain clients of JFS have invested in limited partnership units of FNB Capital Partners and Tecum Capital Partners, merchant banking companies. Neither Robert C. Jazwinski nor JFS receive compensation for introducing clients to these opportunities. JFS charges investment management fees on its clients’ investments in and sponsored by these organizations. Robert C. Jazwinski participates on the Advisory Boards because it allows him to monitor the activities of the organizations and the underlying investments. Although this could represent a potential conflict of interest, no client is obligated to invest in any firm with which JFS’ officers are associated, and JFS has a duty at all times to act in its clients’ best interest.

J. Stephen Lee serves as a Member on the JP Morgan Advisory Council. His two-year term began in June 2018 and ends in June 2020. He is not compensated for his participation on the Advisory Council other than possible payment of travel expenses related to Advisory Council meetings by JP Morgan. This activity is not the principal business of JFS or its principal executive officers.

Focus Client Solutions

We offer clients the option of obtaining certain financial solutions from unaffiliated third-party financial institutions with the assistance of our affiliate, Focus Client Solutions (FCS), a wholly owned subsidiary of our parent company, Focus Financial Partners, LLC. These third-party financial institutions are banks and non-banks (the Network Institutions) which offer credit and cash management solutions to our clients. Certain other unaffiliated third parties provide administrative and settlement services to facilitate FCS’s cash management solutions. FCS acts as an intermediary to facilitate our clients’ access to these credit and cash management solutions.

FCS receives quarterly fees (the Network Fees) from the Network Institutions and certain administrative services providers (the Administrative Services Providers and, together with the Network Institutions, the Network Providers) in exchange for allowing them to participate in the FCS credit and cash management programs and thereby to offer their services to our clients. The Network Fees are substantial and are expected to change over time. Such fees are revenue for FCS and ultimately for our common parent company, Focus Financial Partners, LLC, but we do not share in such revenue. Accordingly, although we have a conflict of interest when recommending FCS’s services to clients because of the compensation to our affiliates (FCS and Focus) we mitigate this conflict by: (1) disclosing the above arrangements to our clients; (2) offering FCS solutions to clients on a strictly nondiscretionary and fully disclosed basis, and not as part of any discretionary investment services; and (3) not sharing in any portion of FCS’s revenue in exchange for successfully offering these credit and cash management products to our clients. Additionally, we note that clients who use FCS’s services will receive robust product-specific disclosure from the Network Providers that provide such services to our clients.

Even if we do not retain a portion of the Network Fees attributable to our clients’ use of FCS’s services (which mitigates the conflict that would otherwise have arisen from our receipt of incremental revenue), FCS does retain the Network Fees and also indirectly benefits from our clients’ use of the services insofar as such use incentivizes the Network Providers to maintain their relationship with FCS and to continue paying Network Fees to FCS. It also may support increases in the overall amount of the Network Fee rates in the future. In addition, our interest in continuing to receive investment advisory fees from client accounts gives us a financial incentive to recommend that clients borrow money rather than liquidating some or all of the assets we manage, and that creates a conflict of interest when we recommend FCS to provide credit solutions to our clients.

FCS Credit Solutions

For FCS credit solutions, the interest rate of the loan is ultimately dictated by the lender, although in some circumstances FCS may have the ability to influence the lender to lower the interest rate of the loan within certain parameters. The final rate may be higher or lower than the prevailing market rate. We can offer no assurances that the rates offered to you by the lender are the lowest possible rates available in the marketplace.

Clients retain the right to pledge assets in accounts generally, subject to any restrictions imposed by clients’ custodians. While the FCS program facilitates secured loans through Network Institutions, clients are free instead to work directly with institutions outside the FCS program. Because of the limited number of participating Network Institutions and FCS’s financial arrangements with those institutions, clients may be limited in their ability to obtain as favorable loan terms as if the client were to work directly with other banks to negotiate loan terms or obtain other financial arrangements.

Clients should also understand that pledging assets in an account to secure a loan involves additional risk and restrictions. A Network Institution has the authority to liquidate all or part of the pledged securities at any time, without prior notice to clients and without their consent, to maintain required collateral levels. The Network Institution also has the right to call client loans and require repayment within a short period of time; if the client cannot repay the loan within the specified time period, the Network Institution will have the right to force the sale of pledged assets to repay those loans. Selling assets to maintain collateral levels or calling loans may result in asset sales and realized losses in a declining market, leading to the permanent loss of capital. These sales also may have adverse tax consequences. Interest payments and any other loan-related fees are borne by clients and are in addition to the advisory fees that clients pay us for managing assets, including assets that are pledged as collateral. The returns on pledged assets may be less than the account fees and interest paid by the account. Clients should consider carefully and skeptically any recommendation to pursue a more aggressive investment strategy in order to support the cost of borrowing, particularly the risks and costs of any such strategy. More generally, before borrowing funds, a client should carefully review the loan agreement, loan application, and other forms and determine that the loan is consistent with the client’s long-term financial goals and presents risks consistent with the client’s financial circumstances and risk tolerance.
FCS Cash Management Solutions
For FCS cash management solutions, as stated above, certain third-party intermediaries provide administrative and settlement services in connection with the program. Those intermediaries each charge a fixed basis point fee on total deposits in the program, which are deducted from clients’ cash balances in the program. Engaging FCS, the Network Institutions, and these other intermediaries to provide cash management solutions does not alter the way we treat cash for billing purposes.

Clients should understand that in rare circumstances, depending on interest rates and other economic and market factors, the yields on cash management solutions could be lower than the aggregate fees and expenses charged by the Network Institutions, the intermediaries referenced above, and us. Consequently, in these rare circumstances, a client could experience a negative overall investment return with respect to those cash investments. Nonetheless, it might still be reasonable for a client to participate in the FCS cash management program if the client prefers to hold cash at the Network Institutions rather than at other financial institutions (e.g., to take advantage of FDIC insurance).

Financial Industry Affiliations
As noted above in response to Item 4, certain investment vehicles managed by Stone Point collectively are principal owners of Focus LLC and Focus Inc., and certain investment vehicles managed by KKR collectively are minority owners of Focus LLC and Focus Inc. Because JFS is an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Focus LLC and Focus Inc., the Stone Point and KKR investment vehicles are indirect owners of JFS. None of Stone Point, KKR, or any of their affiliates participates in the management or investment recommendations of JFS’ business.

JFS has recommended, and will in the future recommend, that clients invest in products or investment vehicles managed and/or sponsored directly by KKR or one of its affiliates (each such vehicle, an Owner-Affiliated Fund), if JFS determines that such investments are in the best interests of clients. Any fees charged by such Owner-Affiliated Funds will be paid directly or indirectly to KKR and/or its affiliates. A conflict of interest exists because (1) KKR is an indirect owner of JFS; (2) KKR has representation on the board of JFS’s parent company, Focus Financial Partners Inc.; and (3) KKR and/or its affiliates will benefit financially if JFS recommends investments in the Owner-Affiliated Funds. Although JFS will only recommend such investments if it believes that they are in the best interests of clients, it is nonetheless possible that this conflict of interest might influence JFS’s advice, consciously or unconsciously. To mitigate this conflict of interest, we have fully disclosed such conflict here in this Brochure.

JFS is affiliated with JFS Risk Management, LLC, a Pennsylvania licensed insurance agency. JFS Risk Management, LLC offers for sale, insurance-related products on a commission basis, including to investment advisory clients of JFS. The recommendation by JFS that a client purchase an insurance commission product from JFS’ related insurance entity, JFS Risk Management, LLC, presents a conflict of interest. The receipt of commissions by JFS Risk Management, LLC provides an incentive to recommend insurance products based on commissions to be received rather than on a particular client’s need. However, JFS does have a duty at all times to act in the client’s best interest.

No client is under any obligation to purchase any insurance commission product from JFS’ related insurance entity. Clients are reminded that they may purchase insurance products recommended by JFS through other, non-related insurance agencies. JFS’ Chief Compliance Officer, Laura Blaire, remains available to address any questions that clients or prospective clients may have regarding this or any other conflict of interest.

JFS Wealth Advisors, LLC, Robert C. Jazwinski, and Thomas N. Alvaré each have a minority ownership interest in a savings and loan holding company, National Advisors Holdings, Inc. (NAH) that formed a federally chartered trust company, National Advisors Trust Company (NATC). NAH and NATC are regulated by the Office of Thrift Supervision. The trust company provides a low-cost alternative to traditional trust service providers, and JFS refers clients to NATC for trust, custody, and brokerage services.

Affiliated Private Funds
JFS is affiliated with certain private investment funds (together, the “affiliated funds”):

- Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC Funds

Condensed descriptions of each of the affiliated funds are listed below. The complete description of the terms, conditions, risks, and fees associated with each of the affiliated funds is detailed in each of the affiliated funds’ offering documents.

JFS, on a non-discretionary basis, recommends that certain qualified clients consider allocating a portion of their investment assets to these types of affiliated funds. The terms and conditions for participation in any affiliated fund, including management fees, conflicts of interest, and risk factors are detailed in each fund’s offering documents. JFS’ clients are under absolutely no obligation to consider or make an investment in these or any other private investment fund.

Private investment funds generally involve various risk factors, including, but not limited to, potential for complete loss of principal, liquidity constraints, and lack of transparency. These risk factors are detailed in each fund’s offering documents, which are provided to each prospective investor for review and consideration. Unlike other liquid investments that a client typically maintains, private investment funds do not provide daily liquidity or pricing. Each prospective client investor would be required to complete a Subscription Agreement. Afterward, the client would have to establish that he or she is qualified for investment in the fund and acknowledges and accepts the various risk factors that are associated with such an investment.

A related person of JFS, Thomas D. Paulus is the managing member of Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC. Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC is the general partner in the Weathervane Capital Partners Fund V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, XI, and XII Limited Partnerships. (Funds I, II, III, and IV are closed.) When appropriate to the needs of accredited investors, JFS may suggest investing in this type of partnership. JFS does not receive a separate advisory fee for assets invested in Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC, any of its Limited Partnerships, or any related private funds. JFS Wealth Advisors does not consider Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC, any of its Limited Partnerships, or any related private funds part of its discretionary asset base. There are no sales fees or commissions paid with respect to Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC, any of its Limited Partnerships, or any related private funds, by any investor or partner. Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC, as a manager, receives separate and typical compensation for acting in this role. JFS provides certain tax preparation services for Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC and the Weathervane Capital Partners Funds and receives a fixed price fee for these services, which is standard compensation for such services. The provision of these services by JFS for Weathervane Capital Partners GP, LLC and the Weathervane Capital Partners Funds presents a conflict of interest.
The receipt of tax preparation fees by JFS provides an incentive for JFS to recommend the Funds to clients. However, JFS does have a duty at all times to act in the client’s best interest.

JFS does not believe the Focus Partnership presents a conflict of interest with JFS’ clients. JFS has no business relationship with other Focus Partners that is material to its advisory business or to its clients.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions, & Personal Trading

JFS has adopted a Code of Ethics expressing the firm’s commitment to ethical conduct. JFS’ Code of Ethics describes the firm’s fiduciary duties and responsibilities to clients, and details JFS’ practice of monitoring the personal securities transactions of JFS employees. Individuals associated with JFS buy and/or sell securities for their personal accounts identical to or different than those recommended to clients. It is the expressed policy of JFS that no person employed by JFS put his or her own interests before that of an advisory client or make personal investment decisions based on the investment decisions of advisory clients. It is also the expressed policy of JFS that the allocation of client transactions is fair and equitable. (Refer to Item 12 for more information regarding JFS’ Limited Investment Opportunity Allocation Policy.)

Additionally, JFS does not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. Principal transactions are generally defined as transactions where an advisor, acting as the principal for its own account or the account of an affiliated broker-dealer, buys from or sells any security to an advisory client. An agency cross transaction is defined as a transaction where a person acts as an investment advisor in relation to a transaction in which the investment advisor, or any person controlled by or under common control with the investment advisor, acts as the broker-dealer for both the advisory client and for another person on the other side of the transaction.

To supervise compliance with its Code of Ethics, JFS requires its employees to report covered securities transactions to the firm’s Chief Compliance Officer on a quarterly basis. JFS also requires its employees to receive approval from the Chief Compliance Officer prior to investing in any private placements (limited offerings) or IPOs and prior to buying or selling any securities on JFS’ restricted list.

JFS requires that all individuals act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices. JFS’ Code of Ethics further includes the firm’s policy prohibiting the use of material non-public information and references JFS’ restricted list. Any individual not complying with the above is subject to disciplinary measures.

JFS will provide a complete copy of its Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request to the Chief Compliance Officer at JFS’ principal address.

Refer to Item 10 for additional information regarding conflicts of interest.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Brokerage Recommendations

JFS does not have the discretionary authority to determine the broker-dealer to be used or commission rates to be paid. Clients must direct JFS as to the broker-dealer they wish to use.
The Custodians and Broker-Dealers We Use
JFS does not maintain physical custody of clients’ assets that JFS manages or on which JFS advises although JFS is deemed to have legal custody of clients’ assets if the client gives JFS authority to withdraw assets from his/her account. (Refer to Item 15 below.) Client assets must be maintained in an account at a qualified custodian, generally a broker-dealer or bank. JFS is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with the broker-dealers (custodians) that JFS recommends to clients.

JFS currently suggests and uses the following independent broker-dealers (custodians) for custody and brokerage services when appropriate for the client and consistent with JFS’ fiduciary duty to put client interests first: Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., TD Ameritrade, Inc., Fidelity Investments, and National Advisors Trust Company. The specific broker-dealer recommended depends upon the client’s unique needs, objectives, and preferences.

How JFS Selects Broker-Dealers/Custodians to Recommend
JFS seeks to recommend a broker-dealer (custodian) who will hold client assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. JFS considers a wide range of factors including, but not limited to, the following.

- Client objectives;
- Combination of transaction execution services along with asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody);
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities from client accounts);
- Capabilities to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (i.e. wire transfers, check requests, bill payment);
- Breadth of investment products made available (i.e. stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs));
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist JFS in making investment decisions;
- Availability of pricing information and market data;
- Quality of services;
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (i.e. commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees) and willingness to negotiate them;
- Reputation, financial strength, and stability of the provider;
- Provider’s prior service to JFS and JFS’ other clients; and
- Availability of other products and services that benefit JFS as noted below.

The ultimate choice of broker-dealer is the client’s. If a client selects a broker-dealer suggested and used by JFS, JFS will attempt to negotiate commissions and obtain volume discounts and has a duty of best execution. The duty of best execution means that JFS has an obligation to get the best overall value for the client when placing trades and must consider cost, quality, timeliness, etc. However, if a client does not select a broker-dealer suggested and used by JFS, it should be understood that JFS will not have authority to negotiate commissions among various broker-dealers or obtain volume discounts, and best execution may not be achieved. In addition, differences in commission charges could exist between the commissions charged to other clients.
Products and Services Available to JFS and JFS’ Clients

Although not a material consideration when determining whether to recommend that a client utilize the services of a particular broker-dealer/custodian, JFS receives from one or more of the broker-dealers/custodians JFS recommends to clients without cost (and/or at a discount) support services and/or products, certain of which assist JFS to better monitor and service client accounts maintained at such institutions. The support services that are obtained by JFS typically include one or more of the following: investment-related research, pricing information and market data, software and other technology that provide access to client account data, compliance and/or practice management-related publications, discounted and/or gratis consulting services, discounted and/or gratis attendance at conferences, meetings, and other educational and/or social events, marketing support, computer hardware and/or software and/or other products used by JFS in furtherance of its investment advisory business operations.

As indicated above, certain of the support services and/or products that may be received assist JFS in managing and administering client accounts. Others do not directly provide such assistance but rather assist JFS to manage and further develop its business enterprise and offset costs that JFS would otherwise be required to bear. In addition, the support services and/or products provided by a broker-dealer/custodian may be used to service all or a substantial number of the Firm’s client accounts, including accounts not maintained at the broker-dealer/custodian providing the services and/or products.

JFS recommends that clients establish brokerage accounts with Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, member SIPC as the qualified custodian to maintain custody of clients’ assets and to effect trades for clients’ accounts. Schwab Advisor Services (formerly Schwab Institutional) is Schwab’s business serving independent advisory firms like JFS and provides JFS with access to its institutional brokerage services (i.e. trading, custody, reporting, and related services), many of which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help JFS manage or administer client accounts while others help JFS manage and grow its business.

Schwab’s services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which JFS might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by JFS’ clients.

Schwab also makes available to JFS other products and services that benefit JFS but may not directly benefit JFS’ clients or their accounts. These products and services assist JFS in managing and administering client accounts. These include investment research, both Schwab’s own and that of third parties. JFS may use this research to service all or some substantial number of JFS’ clients’ accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- Provide access to client account data (i.e. duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders (block trades) for multiple client accounts, including access to a trading desk that exclusively services Schwab’s institutional traders;
- Provide pricing and other market data;
- Facilitate payment of JFS’ fees from clients’ accounts; and
- Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting;
Schwab offers other services intended to help JFS manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services include:

- Discounts and credits up to $265,000 to be applied toward technology costs (i.e. information technology platform and software costs) in addition to other credits for reimbursement of ACAT, transaction, and asset-based fees for a limited time period;
- Educational conferences and events;
- Technology, compliance, legal, and business consulting;
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- Access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers.

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, Schwab will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to JFS. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide JFS with other benefits such as occasional business entertainment of JFS' personnel.

JFS also recommends that clients establish brokerage accounts with TD Ameritrade Institutional (TDA), a registered broker-dealer, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. TDA is a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. (TD Ameritrade), Member FINRA/SIPC. TD Ameritrade is an independent and unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member. There is no direct link between JFS' participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its clients, although JFS receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors.

TDA's products and services (provided without cost or at a discount) include receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations, research related products and tools, consulting services, access to a trading desk serving advisor participants, access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts), the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts, access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information, and access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers. Services may also include discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to JFS by third party vendors.

Some of the products and services made available by TDA through the program may benefit JFS but may not directly benefit its client accounts. These products or services may assist JFS in managing and administering client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TDA. Other services made available by TDA are intended to help JFS manage and further develop its business enterprise. Such products and services may be provided without cost or at a discount. Certain of those services are intended to help JFS to manage and further develop its business enterprise. In addition, TDA may make available, arrange and/or pay for these types of services to JFS by independent third parties. TDA may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to JFS. For example, TDA previously paid for business consulting and professional services received by JFS' related persons.

JFS may receive free or discounted support services and products from other independent custodians JFS uses, such as Fidelity Investments and National Advisors Trust Company. These products and services help JFS better monitor and service client accounts maintained at that particular custodian. These services and products typically include one or more of the following: investment-related research, pricing information and market data, software and other technology that provide access to client account data, compliance related publications, and practice management related publications. They may also include free and/or discounted consulting services, conference registration fees, meetings, other educational and/or social events, and computer software and/or other products used by JFS for its investment advisory business operations. Some of the support services and products assist JFS in managing and administering client accounts. Others do not directly provide such assistance but assist JFS in managing and further developing its business enterprise. This may include discounted and shared expenses for existing and prospective client events.

JFS’ clients do not pay more for investment transactions effected and/or assets maintained at Charles Schwab, TD Ameritrade, Fidelity Investments, or National Advisors Trust Company as a result of these types of arrangements. JFS, consistent with its best execution obligation, has negotiated favorable transaction fee arrangements with all of the independent custodians used by JFS for the benefit of all of JFS’ clients.

There is no corresponding commitment made by JFS to these custodians or any other entity to invest any specific amount or percentage of client assets in any specific mutual funds, securities or other investment products as a result of any such arrangement. The benefits received by JFS or its personnel from each of these custodians do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to such custodians.

As part of its fiduciary duty to clients, JFS endeavors at all times to put the interests of clients first. Clients and future clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by JFS in and of itself creates a conflict of interest and may indirectly influence JFS’ recommendation to clients to utilize one of these broker-dealers/custodians for custody and brokerage services.

Additional Compensation

JFS receives benefits from the independent custodians JFS uses by participation in the custodians’ institutional programs. (Please see the disclosure under Item 14 below.)

JFS’ clients do not pay more for investment transactions effected and/or assets maintained at Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., TD Ameritrade, Inc., Fidelity Investments, and National Advisors Trust Company as a result of these types of arrangements. JFS, consistent with its best execution obligation, has negotiated favorable transaction fee arrangements with all of the independent custodians used by JFS for the benefit of all of JFS’ clients.

There is no corresponding commitment made by JFS to these custodians or any other entity to invest any specific amount or percentage of client assets in any specific mutual funds, securities or other investment products as a result of any such arrangement.

Laura Blaire, JFS’ Chief Compliance Officer, is available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding these types of arrangements and any real or perceived conflict of interest these arrangements create.

As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, JFS strives at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by JFS or its related persons.
in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence JFS’ choice of provider for custody and brokerage services.

Block Trades
To the extent that a position is being traded in multiple accounts at the same custodian, the trader will typically create a block trade in the rebalancing software for processing at the custodian when possible and advantageous to clients. In these instances, clients participating in block trades will receive an average share price, and transaction costs will be shared equally and on a pro rata basis. Timing of a trade request or submission to the trader is the primary reason that trades for a position that is being traded in multiple accounts at the same custodian would not be part of a block trade. Accounts that are not block traded may not receive the same pricing as those that are included in a block trade.

Sequencing of Trades
As noted above, JFS creates block trades in the rebalancing software for processing at the custodian when possible. JFS also maintains a rotational calendar for custodial sequencing to ensure that JFS is not trading the same custodian first each time. In addition to the rotational calendar, reasonable measures are taken to minimize the time between uploads to each custodian.

Trade Error Policy
JFS reimburses client accounts for losses resulting from JFS’ trade errors but shall not credit accounts for errors resulting in market gains. The gains and losses are reconciled according to the policy of the applicable account custodian. Below are the trade error policies for the primary account custodians JFS uses for client accounts.

Charles Schwab does not use a trade error account; it makes the necessary corrections by buying or selling. When there is a profit from a trade error, Schwab posts a covering trade to the client’s account so the client receives the profit. If the client does not want the profit (e.g., for tax purposes), the client may advise Schwab to send the gain to charity, if the gain is greater than $100. Schwab will maintain the loss or gain (if such gain is not retained in the client’s account) if it is under $100 to minimize and offset its administrative time and expense. When there is a loss greater than $100 due to a trade error, JFS is responsible for the loss.

TD Ameritrade defines “net gains” as positive error account balances resulting from trade corrections. TD Ameritrade automatically sweeps all net gains from trade corrections to a designated TD Ameritrade Error Account each business day and donates these funds to charity. When there is a loss due to a trade error, JFS is responsible for any such losses.

Fidelity uses a trade error account. Net losses are deducted from JFS’ Fidelity fee account. Net gains due to a trade error are sent by Fidelity to a designated charity of advisor’s choosing. Standing instructions may be submitted to designate a specific charity. Otherwise, Fidelity will select a default charity.

At National Advisors Trust Company (NATC), if a trade error results in a profit, the profit can be credited to the client’s account or forfeited to a control account at NATC. Such profits are donated to charity. Losses are moved to a trade error account, and the loss must be covered by JFS.
Limited Investment Opportunity Allocation Policy

Limited investment opportunities are offered to clients based on an overall suitability assessment including, but not limited to, the following factors: level of sophistication, net worth, investable assets, risk tolerance, overall asset allocation, investment strategy, and unique needs and objectives. Once suitable clients are identified in this manner, investment opportunities are made available on a pro rata basis.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Underlying securities within JFS managed accounts are continually monitored. Accounts are reviewed as to asset allocation, individual holdings, suitability, and performance. Reviews of holdings used for client portfolios are performed by the Investment Committee on at least a quarterly basis and continually, as needed, based on changes in individual positions.

Client information is downloaded each business day, reflecting holdings and prices as of the close of business the previous business day or other most recently priced day. Calculations of asset allocation, individual position weights, total internal-rates-of-return since inception, and annualized internal-rates-of return are then made available, if not actually executed each day. Client portfolio data is maintained in-house in a customized, computer database. Transaction records and market pricing are downloaded from custodians each business day or as often as made available. Specific securities common to client portfolios are monitored on an ongoing basis.

The JFS Investment Committee is comprised of senior members of the firm including the Chief Investment Officer, President, Managing Principals (2), a Senior Lead Advisor, and the Director of Investment Management. The Committee meets monthly, or more frequently as necessary, to conduct and review fundamental analysis on securities recommended for client accounts. The analysis and methodology of review varies depending on the security under review. The Committee invites contribution from other associates of the Firm and enlists the services of the Chief Compliance Officer when appropriate.

Reports of Accounts

In addition to the no less than quarterly statements and confirmations of transactions that Wealth Management and Investment Advisory Services clients receive from their designated custodian (ex. Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., TD Ameritrade, Inc., Fidelity Investments, and National Advisors Trust Company), JFS makes periodic reports available to all clients showing their portfolio’s financial profile and performance data. Clients are urged to schedule/attend a face-to-face, video, or audio meeting (Progress Review Meeting) to review details, discuss progress in achieving goals, and determine if goals or plans should be adjusted.

Reports typically include the client’s original amount invested, current value, and time weighted rates-of-return since inception. Weightings by category and portfolio totals can be summarized as well.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Client Referrals/Solicitor Arrangements

As a result of past participation in a solicitor arrangement with a third party, independent accounting firm, Schroedel, Scullin, and Bestic (SSB), JFS received client referrals from SSB. Although the solicitor arrangement was terminated, JFS is obligated to pay SSB an ongoing fee for each successful client relationship established as a result of past referrals. This fee is typically 30% of the advisory fees that the client pays to JFS. However, the percentage fee may vary depending on the services being provided by JFS and SSB. JFS does not charge clients referred by SSB any fees or costs higher than its standard schedule offered to its clients. JFS does not pass solicitor fees on to its clients. Specifics were disclosed to each client beforehand. Clients introduced in this manner receive the same services and priorities as all other JFS clients.

As a result of past participation in TD Ameritrade’s AdvisorDirect program (the referral program); JFS received client referrals from TD Ameritrade. TD Ameritrade established the referral program as a means of referring its brokerage customers and other investors seeking fee-based personal investment management services or financial planning services to independent investment advisors. TD Ameritrade does not supervise JFS and has no responsibility for JFS’ management of client portfolios or JFS’ other advice or services. JFS is no longer participating in the referral program for purposes of receiving client referrals but is obligated to pay TD Ameritrade an ongoing fee for each successful client relationship established as a result of past referrals. This fee is usually a percentage not to exceed 25% of the advisory fees that the client pays to JFS (Solicitation Fee). JFS will also pay TD Ameritrade the Solicitation Fee on any advisory fees received by JFS from any of a referred client’s family members who hired JFS on the recommendation of such referred client. JFS will not charge clients referred to JFS through AdvisorDirect any fees or costs higher than its standard fee schedule offered to its other clients or otherwise pass Solicitation Fees paid to TD Ameritrade to its clients.

As a result of past participation in Charles Schwab’s Schwab Advisor Network (SAN) referral program, JFS received client referrals from Schwab. SAN is designed to help investors find an independent investment advisor. Schwab does not supervise JFS and has no responsibility for JFS’ management of client portfolios or JFS’ other advice or services. JFS is no longer participating in the SAN referral program for purposes of receiving client referrals but is obligated to pay Schwab an ongoing fee for each successful client relationship established as a result of past referrals. JFS pays Charles Schwab a “Participation Fee” on all referred clients’ accounts that are maintained in custody at Charles Schwab and a “Non-Charles Schwab Custody Fee” on all accounts that are maintained at, or transferred to, another custodian. The Participation Fee paid by JFS is a percentage of the value of the assets in the client’s account. JFS pays Charles Schwab the Participation Fee as long as the referred client’s account remains in custody at Charles Schwab. The Participation Fee is billed to JFS quarterly and may be increased, decreased or waived by Charles Schwab from time to time. The Participation Fee is paid by JFS and not by the client. JFS has agreed not to charge clients referred through SAN fees or costs greater than the fees or costs JFS charges clients with similar portfolios who were not referred through SAN.

JFS generally pays Charles Schwab a Non-Charles Schwab Custody Fee if custody of a referred client’s account is not maintained by, or assets in the account are transferred from, Charles Schwab. This fee does not apply if the client was solely responsible for the decision not to maintain custody at Charles Schwab. The Non-Charles Schwab Custody Fee is a one-time payment equal to a percentage of the assets placed with a custodian other than Charles Schwab. The Non-Charles Schwab Custody Fee is higher than the Participation Fees JFS generally would pay in a single year. Thus, JFS has an incentive to recommend that client accounts be held in custody at Charles Schwab. The Participation and Non-Charles Schwab Custody Fees are based on assets in accounts of JFS’ clients who were referred by Charles Schwab and those referred clients’ family members living in the same household. Thus, JFS has incentives to encourage household members of clients referred through SAN to maintain custody of their accounts and execute transactions at Charles Schwab and to instruct Charles Schwab to debit JFS’ fees directly from the accounts.
JFS has arrangements in place with certain third parties whereby we compensate them for client referrals by paying them a percentage of the investment advisory fees we receive from the solicited clients. Solicitation arrangements inherently give rise to potential conflicts of interest because the solicitor is receiving an economic benefit for the recommendation of advisory services. Rule 206(4)-3 of the Advisers Act (the Cash Solicitation Rule) addresses this conflict of interest by requiring advisers who pay third party solicitors to enter into agreements requiring the solicitors to make certain disclosures to solicited potential clients. In accordance with the Cash Solicitation Rule, we require third party solicitors who introduce potential clients to us to provide the potential client with a copy of this disclosure brochure and a copy of the solicitor's disclosure statement which explains that the solicitor will be compensated for the referral and contains the terms and conditions of the solicitation arrangement, including the compensation the solicitor is to receive. JFS is not currently participating in any solicitor arrangement.

Additional Compensation

JFS receives compensation from SEI for referring an institution to SEI for provision of financial services.

As noted in Item 12, JFS currently suggests and uses the following independent broker-dealers (custodians) for custody and brokerage services when appropriate for the client and consistent with JFS' fiduciary duty to put client interests first: Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., TD Ameritrade, Inc., Fidelity Investments, and National Advisors Trust Company. The specific broker-dealer recommended depends upon the client's unique needs, objectives, and preferences. Each of these broker-dealers (custodians) provides a number of products and services to JFS. Some of these products and services benefit JFS' clients directly while others are intended to help JFS to manage and further develop its business enterprise.

JFS receives an economic benefit from Schwab in the form of credits and discounts as well as the support products and services Schwab makes available to JFS and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at Schwab. These credits, discounts, products, and services, their benefits to JFS' clients, their benefits to JFS, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12. The availability to JFS of Schwab's products and services is not based on JFS giving particular advice, such as buying particular securities for JFS' clients.

JFS receives an economic benefit from TD Ameritrade Institutional (TDA) in the form of the support products and services TDA makes available to JFS and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at TDA. These products and services, their benefits to JFS' clients, their benefits to JFS, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12. The availability to JFS of TDA's products and services is not based on JFS giving particular advice, such as buying particular securities for JFS' clients.

JFS receives an economic benefit from other independent custodians JFS uses, such as Fidelity Investments and National Advisors Trust Company, in the form of the support products and services those custodians make available to JFS and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts with them. These products and services, their benefits to JFS' clients, their benefits to JFS, and the related conflicts of interest are described in Item 12. The availability to JFS of these custodians’ products and services is not based on JFS giving particular advice, such as buying particular securities for JFS' clients.
JFS’ parent company is Focus Financial Partners, LLC (Focus). From time to time, Focus holds partnership meetings and other industry and best-practices conferences, which typically include JFS, other Focus firms, and external attendees. These meetings are first and foremost intended to provide training or education to personnel of Focus firms, including JFS. However, the meetings do provide sponsorship opportunities for asset managers, asset custodians, vendors, and other third-party service providers. Sponsorship fees allow these companies to advertise their products and services to Focus firms, including JFS. Although the participation of Focus firm personnel in these meetings is not preconditioned on the achievement of a sales target for any conference sponsor, this practice could nonetheless be deemed a conflict as the marketing and education activities conducted, and the access granted, at such meetings and conferences could cause JFS to focus on those conference sponsors in the course of its duties. Focus attempts to mitigate any such conflict by allocating the sponsorship fees only to defraying the cost of the meeting or future meetings and not as revenue for itself or any affiliate, including JFS. Conference sponsorship fees are not dependent on assets placed with any specific provider or revenue generated by such asset placement.

The following entities have provided conference sponsorship to Focus in the last year:

- Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.
- eMoney Advisors, LLC
- Envestnet Financial Technologies, Inc.
- Fidelity Brokerage Services, LLC
- Fidelity Institutional Asset Management, LLC
- Orion Advisor Services, LLC

Laura Blaire, JFS’ Chief Compliance Officer, is available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding these types of arrangements and any real or perceived conflict of interest these arrangements create.

As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, JFS strives at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by JFS or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence JFS’ choice of provider for custody and brokerage services.

Item 15 – Custody

All investment accounts are held at a qualified custodian (ex. Charles Schwab, TD Ameritrade, Fidelity Investments, and National Advisors Trust Co.). The custodian provides the client with no less than quarterly statements for each account. JFS urges clients to carefully review these statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that JFS provides the client. JFS’ statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

JFS has custody of some client funds and securities because JFS deducts advisory fees from client accounts when directed and authorized by the client to do so and because certain clients have executed standing letters of authorization for distributions, except those where the SEC has granted no action relief from custody audit requirements. JFS has custody for client accounts for which JFS provides bill payment services. JFS also has custody for client accounts for which Robert C. Jazwinski and/or other principals or employees serve as trustee as requested and authorized by the client, and due to a related person(s) serving as managing member of limited partnerships in which JFS’ clients invest. Certain JFS officers and employees serve as trustee for client accounts, as requested and authorized by the client, where the client is a close family member or friend.

Effective March 12, 2010, JFS is subject to a surprise annual audit by a qualified accounting (CPA) firm, including related filings, for those client accounts where JFS is deemed to have custody. These include, but are not be limited to, the account types listed above.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

JFS usually receives authority from the client at the beginning of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold without prior consent (discretionary authority). In all cases, however, this discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account.

When selecting securities and determining amounts, JFS observes the investment policies, limitations and restrictions of the clients for which it advises. Asset allocations and preferences are typically detailed in an investment policy statement, asset allocation form, or investment recommendation letter. JFS’ discretionary authority is detailed in the client’s advisory agreement or a separate Limited Power of Attorney form. Investment restrictions are typically listed in the client’s Investment Policy Statement (IPS).

Changes to investment guidelines and restrictions must typically be provided to JFS in writing.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

JFS does not vote proxies for its clients as a matter of Firm policy and practice. Clients expressly retain the authority for and responsibility to vote proxies for any and all securities maintained in client accounts. JFS may provide advice to clients regarding the clients’ voting of proxies.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisors are required in this Item to provide clients with certain financial information or disclosures about their financial condition. JFS has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

JFS’ Chief Compliance Officer, Laura Blaire, remains available to address any questions regarding this Part 2A.

Item 2- Educational Background and Business Experience

Thomas N. Alvaré

Birth Year: 1954

Education: The Pennsylvania State University, State College, PA – B.S.

Professional Credentials:

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)
CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination.

In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct, which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Personal Financial Specialist (PFS)
The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning. To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must hold an unrevoked CPA license, fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience, complete 80 hours of personal financial planning CPE credits, pass a comprehensive financial planning exam and be an active member of the AICPA. A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct and is encouraged to follow AICPA’s Statement on Responsibilities in Financial Planning Practice.

Item 2- Educational Background and Business Experience

Sarah J. Amey

Birth Year: 1982

Education: Shippensburg University, Shippensburg, PA – B.A.

Professional Credentials:

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ (CFP®)
The mission of the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (CFP Board) is to benefit the public by granting the CFP® certification and upholding it as the recognized standard of excellence for personal financial planning.

CFP® practitioners have met rigorous examination, experience, and ethics requirements.

CFP Board’s CFP® certification process consists of initial requirements in the areas of Education, Examination, Experience and Ethics (known as “the four Es”).

Prerequisites for certification include a bachelor's degree (or higher), or its equivalent, in any discipline, from an accredited college or university and completion of a CFP Board-registered education program.

To receive the CFP® certification, a candidate must:

• Pass the CFP® certification examination;
• Meet the experience requirement of at least three years of qualifying full-time work experience;
• Pass the Fitness Standards for Candidates and Registrants and background check;
• Pay a one-time initial certification application fee of $100 for the background check;
• Pay a certification fee every two years; and
• Receive authorization to use the Marks.

CFP® practitioners must meet the following three renewal requirements every two years:

• Complete a certification application;
• Pay a certification fee; and
• Complete 30 hours of continuing education of which two hours must be from a CFP Board-approved program on CFP Board’s Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility (Code of Ethics) and/or Financial Planning Practice Standards (Practice Standards).

Certified Investment Management Analyst℠ (CIMA®)
The CIMA certification signifies that an individual has met initial and on-going experience, ethical, education, and examination requirements for investment management consulting, including advanced investment management theory and application. Prerequisites for the CIMA certification are three years of financial services experience and an acceptable regulatory history. To obtain the CIMA certification, candidates must pass an online Qualification Examination, successfully complete a one-week classroom education program provided by a Registered Education Provider at an AACSB accredited university business school, and pass an online Certification Examination. CIMA designees are required to adhere to IMCA’s Code of Professional Responsibility, Standards of Practice, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks. CIMA designees must report 40 hours of continuing education credits, including two ethics hours, every two years to maintain the certification. The designation is administered through Investment Management Consultants Association (IMCA®).

Item 2- Educational Background and Business Experience

Sean M. Gibbon

Birth Year: 1993

Education: Westminster College, New Wilmington, PA – B.S.

Professional Credentials:

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)
CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination.

In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct, which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Personal Financial Specialist (PFS)
The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning. To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must hold an unrevoked CPA license, fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience, complete 80 hours of personal financial planning CPE credits, pass a comprehensive financial planning exam and be an active member of the AICPA. A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct and is encouraged to follow AICPA's Statement on Responsibilities in Financial Planning Practice.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNERTM (CFP®)

Item 2- Educational Background and Business Experience

Deborah A. Stiger

Birth Year: 1960

Education: The Pennsylvania State University, State College, PA – B.S.

Professional Credentials:

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)
CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination.

In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two year period or 120 hours over a three year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct, which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own.

Personal Financial Specialist (PFS)
The PFS credential demonstrates that an individual has met the minimum education, experience and testing required of a CPA in addition to a minimum level of expertise in personal financial planning. To attain the PFS credential, a candidate must hold an unrevoked CPA license, fulfill 3,000 hours of personal financial planning business experience, complete 80 hours of personal financial planning CPE credits, pass a comprehensive financial planning exam and be an active member of the AICPA. A PFS credential holder is required to adhere to AICPA’s Code of Professional Conduct and is encouraged to follow AICPA’s Statement on Responsibilities in Financial Planning Practice.

Chartered Retirement Plans Specialist℠ (CRPS®)
The CRPS® Program is specifically targeted at professionals who design, install and maintain retirement plans for the business community.

The College for Financial Planning® awards the CHARTERED RETIREMENT PLANS SPECIALIST℠ and CRPS® designation to students who:
- Successfully complete the program;
- Pass the final examination; and
Comply with the Code of Ethics, which includes agreeing to abide by the Standards of Professional Conduct and Terms and Conditions. Applicants must also disclose of any criminal, civil, self-regulatory organization, or governmental agency inquiry, investigation, or proceeding relating to their professional or business conduct.

Conferment of the designation is contingent upon the College for Financial Planning®'s review of matters either self-disclosed or which are discovered by the College that are required to be disclosed.

Students must sign and return the Code of Ethics form within six month of passing the final exam. Failure to complete and submit the form within this timeframe may result in termination of the individual's candidacy. If an individual wishes to apply for authorization to use the Marks in the future, he or she may be required to fulfill the initial designation requirements in place at the time of passing the exam.

Successful students receive a certificate and are granted the right to use the designation on correspondence and business cards for a two-year period.

Continued use of the CRPS® designation is subject to ongoing renewal requirements. Every two years individuals must renew their right to continue using the CRPS® designation by:

- Completing 16 hours of continuing education;
- Reaffirming to abide by the Standards of Professional Conduct, Terms and Conditions and self-disclose any criminal, civil, self-regulatory organization, or governmental agency inquiry, investigation, or proceeding relating to their professional or business conduct; and
- Paying a biennial renewal fee.

Accredited Investment Fiduciary™ (AIF®)

Donald E. Yost

Birth Year:    1954

Education:    Pennsylvania State University, State College, PA – B.S.

Professional Credentials:

CHARTERED FINANCIAL CONSULTANT® (ChFc®)
The Chartered Financial Consultant® curriculum is dedicated to helping financial planning professionals gain significant and relevant knowledge that can be applied to helping clients meet their goals.

Prerequisites for the ChFc® designation include an undergraduate or graduate degree from an accredited educational institution and three years of full-time business experience.

The ChFc® educational program is comprised of nine college-level courses that address all aspects of financial planning, with a focus on the practical applications of those principles on real-life case studies.

To receive the ChFc® designation, candidates must successfully complete all courses and exams, meet experience requirements and ethics standards, and agree to comply with The American College Code of Ethics and Procedures.

ChFc® designees must complete 30 hours of continuing education every two years.

Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU®)
The Chartered Life Underwriter designation is the insurance profession’s oldest standard of excellence. The CLU® remains the credential for practitioners who desire to provide clients with the security of life insurance and risk management.

Candidates must successfully complete eight courses and exams, meet experience requirements and ethics standards, and agree to comply with The American College Code of Ethics and Procedures. Participation in the Professional Recertification Program is also required. The courses include:

• Fundamentals of Insurance Planning
• Individual Life Insurance
• Life Insurance Law
• Fundamentals of Estate Planning
• Planning for Business Owners and Professionals

Plus 3 of the following Electives:
• Financial Planning: Process and Environment
• Income Taxation
• Planning for Retirement Needs
• Investments
The Professional Recertification Program consists of three main components:
